cardiopathfinder This is quickly becoming one of my favorite races #treeschallenge it's a beautiful 10 mile trail race that takes place on the mountain bike trails. You up and down the switch backs in the ravine, through the stream and up and over the soap box derby hill all while the leaves are falling around you.

This is the 3rd time I've run this race and every year I manage to underestimate the challenge of the undulating terrain. Never the less the weather was amazing and the course was in prime condition. I'd recommend this to anyone in northeast Indiana.
